WILLIAM'S JOURNEY

The Imperial Party Will Reach Venice on April 10.

WILL THEY DROP THEIR INCOCITO

The Interview Between the German Emperor and King Humbert—Expectation That Bismarck Will Again Control the Ship of State.

Berlin, April 6.—Advices received here from Palermo say that the sojourn in Sicily of the German imperial party is concluded and that the imperial yacht Hohenzollern with the emperor and empress, the crown prince and Prince Eitel Frederick and their respective suites and attendants on board, will sail through the straits of Messina, and up the Adriatic, the voyage being timed so that the party will reach Venice on April 10. The weather during their stay in Sicily has been good. The imperial party have been well received everywhere. They have not been troubled with the curiosity of the public nor have they been annoyed by over attention on the part of the authorities. The emperor telegraphed to his brother, Prince Henry, at Rome on Friday requesting him to convey to King Humbert an expression of the delight experienced by the kaiser throughout his tour. Accordingly Prince Henry and his wife, Princess Irene of Hesse, went to the quirinal and delivered the emperor's message. They were cordially received by the king and Queen Margherita, their reception lasting an hour. The emperor will drop his incognito upon reaching Venice, where he will be received by the municipal authorities, the Prince of Naples, representing the king; the Duke of Serravalle, Italian minister of foreign affairs, and Count Linz di Rusca, Italian ambassador to Germany, the latter of whom left Berlin on Thursday for the purpose of assisting at the interview which will take place between King Humbert and the kaiser.

Bismarck's Latest Portrait.

The representative of the United Press while at Friedrichsruhe had a prolonged conversation with the celebrated German artist Paul Lenbach, who is one of Prince Bismarck's closest and most trusted friends. Herr Lenbach showed the correspondent his latest oil painting of Prince Bismarck. It is a fine work, the eye having a speaking expression that is marvelous. He also exhibited the last portrait which he painted from life of the old Kaiser William I. The picture is now hanging in the smoking room at Friedrichsruhe, and is so placed that Prince Bismarck sitting in his easy chair with his accustomed long-stemmed pipe can obtain the best possible view of the features of his old master. Prince Bismarck passes much of his time daily in this room. The guests who visited the ex-chancellor on the occasion of his birthday concurred in the opinion that the kaiser's present to the prince, a photograph of the imperial group encased in a bronze frame, the whole being about a foot long, signified almost anything that the observer of the gift might surmise, but really gave no indication of the kaiser's feeling. It was remarked that the features of the notable persons viewing the photograph made rapid changes from cold to warmth and vice versa. Count von Waldersee, after meeting the prince, expressed his pleasure at seeing the ex-chancellor so strong and bright.

Expecting Bismarck's Recall.

The semi-official press are conjecturing that the emperor is again warming toward Prince Bismarck, and are accordingly recurring to praises of the prince's genius and services to the empire. The Cologne Gazette which recently published an article referring to the pitiful sight of the decayed chancellor stumbling, full of complaints, behind the state chariot, now declares that the period of antagonism towards him is over and that calamity has been silenced. "His worst enemies," the Gazette continues, "are ready to admit the grandeur of this colossal historic figure and the heart of the whole of Germany yearns towards him." The Bismarckian newspapers do not accept any criticism of the prince dealing with the ex-chancellor as belonging to past history and hold that it is probable that he will still be called upon to guide the state through a crisis. The Berlin Neueste Nachrichten asserts that the discontent at Prince Bismarck's dismissal from the public service remains as great to-day as it was in 1890. The noted German explorer, Eugen S. Wolff, in conversation with the United Press correspondent at Friedrichsruhe, declared that the day was coming when confusion and entanglement would reach such a pass that the emperor would be unable to help himself except by recalling Prince Bismarck to the chancellorship. "It will be a bad day for Germany," he said, "if the prince is not alive to avert catastrophe." Herr Wolff expressed the opinion that England would prevent both Germany and France from making any further extension of their influence in Africa.

London, April 6.—Ashcroft Noble, the author and journalist, died in London yesterday.

NEW YORK'S "DRY" SUNDAY.
The Raines Law in Full Effect in This City Yesterday.

New York, April 6.—The Raines liquor law was in full effect in all its Sunday features yesterday in this city, and was very generally observed. Not only were the saloons closed and their interiors open to public view, but the selling of liquor with meals was almost entirely discontinued in the restaurants. Chief of Police Conlin's order that no restaurant not having a hotel license should serve its customers, and that even places with hotel licenses should not serve meals in a room in which a bar was located was put in force, and the general result was that New York never experienced a "dryer" Sunday. A number of restaurants from which the bars could not be removed in time were obliged to close, and all of them lost money, by reason of the fact that many of their customers went to hotels for meals.

The Law in Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, N. Y., April 6.—The Raines excise law was not so strictly observed in Brooklyn yesterday as on the previous Sunday. A number of saloon keepers attempted to evade the law by various means, but most of them were caught off their guard and their arrest followed. The police had strict instructions to see that the law was enforced to the letter and they carried them out. Despite this, however, there were evidences on every side that the law was being violated. This was especially true of South Brooklyn, Greenpoint and the poorer sections of the city. Taking it on the whole, however, Brooklyn was a dry city.

Saloons Open in Buffalo.

Buffalo, April 6.—The Sunday closing provision of the Raines bill was not put in operation here yesterday and saloons did business as usual. It is expected that the order to close up will be issued some time this week.

Enforced in Elmira.

Elmira, N. Y., April 6.—The police enforced the Raines law yesterday. The city was the driest in years, and not a single arrest was made.

Albany Was Dry.

Albany, April 6.—The Capital city was dry yesterday for the first time probably in a century.

GREAT STRIKE FEARED.

Street Railway Employees All Over the Country May Be Involved.

New York, April 6.—What may be the forerunner of a series of great strikes on the surface railway systems of the various cities of the country, but more particularly in the east, is likely to occur on the lines operated by the Metropolitan Traction Co. in this city. This possibility was foreshadowed some weeks ago, but the matter dropped out of sight for the time being. President Mahon of the National Amalgamated Association is now on his way to this city from Detroit and is expected to reach here some time during the day. That the employees are in fighting mood is well known, as they claim that the Metropolitan company denies them the right to join labor organizations, a right which they say they will uphold at all hazards. The primary cause of the trouble in this city is the discharge of nine gripmen and one conductor because the men claim, of their activity in the affairs of the local branch of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America, notwithstanding that the company's officials state that the men were discharged for disobeying the rule prohibiting them from entering a saloon during working hours.

OHIO WOMEN AROUSED.

Looking for Revenge for the Passage of the Fosdick Anti-High Hat Bill.

Cincinnati, April 6.—Several prominent women of this city have decided upon plan of "getting even" for the passage of the Fosdick anti-high hat bill. One of them said: "We will avenge ourselves by introducing a bill in the Ohio legislature by which the men will be subjected to a big a snub as the women were. The bill will be drawn up in a few days with the same provisions and fines to be inflicted upon theatre goers and managers as provided for in the Fosdick bill for each person found leaving his seat during an intermission at the theatre or found spitting tobacco juice on the floor. I don't know that it will pass, but nevertheless it will be introduced."

SANTA CRUZ DESTROYED.

4,000 Houses Burned and 30,000 People Rendered Homeless.

Madrid, April 6.—A dispatch from Manila says that the town of Santa Cruz, on the west coast of the island of Luzon, 110 miles northwest of Manila, has been almost completely destroyed by fire. Four thousand houses were burned and thirty thousand persons were rendered homeless.

Honesdale's Fire Loss, $30,000.

Honesdale, Pa., April 6.—By the fire in Hennigan's block, with a frontage of 300 feet on lower Front street, yesterday, eight separate stores and restaurants were burned out and a number of families in the upper stories lost their belongings. The total loss will be about $30,000; insurance, $5,000.

AN APPEAL FOR PEACE

PERMANENT COURT OF ARBITRATION

Baltimore, April 6.—His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons has given to the United Press an appeal, signed by the American, Irish and English cardinals, behalf of a permanent tribunal of arbitration, with the view of creating new guarantees for peace throughout the world as a substitute for war. The appeal is the result of a joint conference in which Cardinal Gibbons, Cardinal Logue and Cardinal Vaughan have for quite some time been engaged. The conclusions arrived at by their eminences are as follows: "We, representatives of the Prince of Peace and of the Catholic church in our respective countries, invite all who hear our voice to co-operate in the formation of a public opinion, which shall demand the establishment of a permanent tribunal of arbitration, as a rational substitute among the English-speaking races for a resort to the bloody arbitration of war. We are well aware that such a project is beset with practical difficulties. We believe that they will not prove to be insuperable if the desire to overcome them be genuine and general. Such a court existed for centuries when the nations of Christendom were united in one faith. And have we not seen nations appeal to that same court for its judgment in our own day?

"The establishment of a permanent tribunal composed, may be of trusted representatives of each sovereign nation, with power to nominate judges and umpires according to the nature of the differences that arises, and a common acceptance of general principles defining and limiting the jurisdiction and subject matter of such tribunal, would create new guarantees for peace that could not fail to influence the whole of Christendom. Such an international court of arbitration would form a second line of defense to be called into requisition only after the ordinary resources of diplomacy had been exhausted. It would at least postpone the outbreak of hostilities until reason and common sense had formally pronounced their last word. This is a matter of which the constitution and procedure must be settled by governments. But as governments are becoming more and more identified with the aspirations, and moulded by the desires, of the people, an appeal in the first instance must be addressed to the people. We do not hesitate on our part to lift up our united voice and proclaim to all who are accustomed to hearken to counsels, that it is a sign of a divine influence at work in their midst when 'nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they be exercised any more in war' (Isaiah, 2, 4); for it was written of a future time, 'come ye and behold the work of the Lord, what wonders He hath done upon the earth, making wars to cease even to the end of the earth' (Ps. 45, 9).

Malta Ground of the Appeal.

"Others may base their appeal upon motives which touch your worldly interests, your prosperity, your worldwide influence and authority in the affairs of men. The Catholic church recognizes the legitimate force of such motives in the natural order and blesses whatever tends to the real progress and elevation of the race. But our main ground of appeal rests upon the well known character and will of the Prince of Peace, the Living Founder, the Divine Head of Christendom. It is He who declared that love for the brotherhood is a second commandment like unto the first. It was He who announced to the people the praise and reward of those who seek after peace and pursue it. 'Blessed,' said He, 'are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God.' (Matt., 5, 9.) We, therefore, earnestly invite all to unite with us in pressing their convictions and desires upon their respective governments by means of petitions and such other measures as are constitutional."

ENGLAND WARNED.

German Papers Say She Must Modulo No Further in the Transvaal.

Berlin, April 6.—The report that England is making preparations to reinforce the British troops in South Africa is awakening the gravest fears of South African complications. Even the Vorwarts, the principal socialist organ, warns Mr. Chamberlain, the British colonial secretary, not to meddle further in the Transvaal, declaring that England has too many difficulties on her hands already to justify her in increasing them.

Pennsylvania Coal for Germany.

Berlin, April 6.—A syndicate of Pennsylvania coal owners have made a successful experiment of shipping coal to Germany and will now arrange to send over a large and regular supply.

GAY WEDDING BELLS

Gen. Harrison To Join the Ranks of Hymen To-day.

TIME OF THE MARRIAGE A SECRET

Expected That the Ceremony Will Occur Late This Evening—Wedding Dinner To Be Served on the ex-President's Special Train.

New York, April 6.—Ex-President Benjamin Harrison is to be married today in St. Thomas' church, but at what hour the ceremony is to take place it is impossible to tell, for it is secret closely guarded by the general and all of his friends. They also decline to give any particulars whatever about the affair and its participants. Mrs. Dimmick declines to talk and her friends refuse to speak of any of the interesting things that have come to their knowledge. It is believed that the ceremony will take place between 5 and 7 o'clock this evening, but this cannot be stated with certainty. This secrecy is maintained in order to avoid the crush around the church, although Police Inspector Cortright has taken special precautions to prevent any annoyance to the bridal party. Gen. Harrison was up bright and early this morning. He spent some time in looking over his mail and wrote and mailed several letters. None but intimate friends were permitted to enter his room.

Gen. Harrison's Easter.

Gen. Harrison arose at 7 o'clock yesterday and spent some time in looking over his mail, and it was 9 o'clock when he went down to breakfast with Col. Corbin, U. S. A., who had called, and Private Secretary Tibbets. After breakfast they were joined by Daniel T. Ramsdell, who is to be an usher, and the party talked some time. Gen. Harrison wrote a few letters and at noon was joined by his former attorney general, with whom Mr. Harrison was alone for upwards of an hour. They then started for a walk and passed out at the Twenty-third street door of the hotel to avoid the reporters who were in the corridors. The ex-president was recognized by but few pedestrians and, after strolling up Fifth avenue a few blocks returned to his hotel and stayed in his apartments until dinner time. The ushers, Messrs. Tibbets and Ramsdell; Mrs. Parker, wife of Lieut. Parker, U. S. N., who is Mrs. Dimmick's sister, and Mrs. Parker of Washington, the wife of Major Parker, will accompany Gen. Harrison and his bride as far as Philadelphia on his special car, after the wedding. A wedding dinner will be served on the train. Although it was reported that William C. Whitney had made preparations for a wedding dinner at his home directly after the church ceremony, he refused to confirm it, and so do the others.

WORCESTER'S GREAT FIRE.

Loss to the Washburn & Moen Company Amounts to $175,000.

Worcester, Mass., April 6.—The most disastrous fire since 1884 occurred yesterday when the spring factory of the Quinsigamond works of the Washburn & Moen Manufacturing company were burned. The loss is total, and P. W. Moen, general manager, estimates the loss at $175,000. This is covered by insurance placed in the Manufacturers' Mutual. The fire originated in an oil pipe, connected with one of the furnaces in the mill, which was being repaired by two men. The building was so saturated with oil that the men had barely time to escape. An alarm was turned in, but before the department arrived the interior of the building was a mass of flames, so that the firemen were unable to get into it. Several lines of hose were directed to the south end of the building, where are located the engine and boilers used for furnishing steam for the spring factory and insulating mill. Several lines of hose were also directed on the two immense tanks of petroleum on the outside of the building from which the supply for the furnaces was drawn. One hour after the alarm had been turned in these tanks exploded, and the oil ran into the canal, which is several hundred rods in length. The burning oil on the water furnished a brilliant and unusual spectacle and it was fifteen minutes before the flames died out on the surface of the canal. The company will rebuild at once.

Troops Leave for Opelusas.

New Orleans, April 6.—Yesterday Gov. Foster ordered seventy-five men of the Washington artillery to be got ready to go to St. Landry parish to preserve the peace. These, with a battery and a Gatling gun, left by the Southern Pacific at 4:53 p. m., for Lafayette, where a special train will be waiting to take them on to Opelousas. No further trouble is reported from there, but it is thought best to send the militia to prevent bloodshed on or about election day.

Booth-Tucker in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, April 6.—Booth-Tucker, the new commander of Salvation army in the United States, made his debut before a Philadelphia audience yesterday. He addressed three meetings in the afternoon and a third in the Association hall.

BERMUDA'S CARGO LANDED.

New York, April 6.—The Ward line steamer Santiago, from Santiago, brought official news from Gen. Calixto Garcia to the Cuban junta. Garcia landed from the Bermuda at Boconao, between Guantanamo and Santiago de Cuba. The arms and ammunition were taken ashore in fourteen boats which Garcia left pulled up on the beach. The Bermuda stood by while the transfer was being made, but as soon as this was accomplished she steamed out to sea. The empty boats were seized by a Spanish cruiser and towed to Santiago. The press censor suppressed all reference to the incident. From these advices the junta is confident that the greater portion of the arms and ammunition the Bermudas carried out of this port is now in the possession of the Cuban patriot army, and that if any part was still left on the steamer when she was seized at Honduras it was only a small portion of the original cargo. Spaniards Lost 300 Men.

A cipher dispatch received yesterday gives a detailed account of the Bermuda expedition to Cuba, of which Gen. Garcia had charge, and of an important battle which took place in Pinar del Rio, which was disastrous to the Spaniards, and which was made for the purpose of permitting the Bermuda to land her small arms and ammunition. The Spaniards lost 300 men.

A BOLD SPANIARD.

Overs To Raise 12,000 Catalans To War Against This Country.

New York, April 6.—A special cable dispatch from Madrid to the Herald says: News comes from Barcelona, published in that city by the Noticiero Universal, that a well known commandant of volunteers, who took an active part against the Carlists in the late war, has offered to raise 12,000 Catalans to make war against the United States in the event of the recognition of the belligerency of the Cuban insurgents. All he asks is that the Spanish authorities should supply Mauser rifles and land his forces on United States territory. The report that the government contemplated the mobilizing of 200,000 men for exigencies in the Cuban campaign is unfounded.

SHOUTED FOR "FREE CUBA."

Spanish Theatre the Scene of the Wildest Disorder—Two Arrests.

Barcelona, April 6.—During a performance of a patriotic play at the Novedades theatre yesterday the audience cheered for Spain and Spanish Cuba. Some voices answered the cheers with cries of "Death to Spain!" "Long Live Free Cuba!" These treasonable shouts excited the wildest indignation among the loyalists, and it probably would have gone hard with the shouters had they been caught by the police. In the tumult, however, they all escaped but two, who were arrested by the police. One of the prisoners is a Cuban and the other is believed to be an anarchist. The police had hard work to defend the two men from the fury of the crowd.

AS TO RECIPROCITY.

Further Opinions Received by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Washington, April 6.—The committee on ways and means has received further responses to their circulars sent out some time ago to prominent manufacturers and business men asking their views on reciprocity. The milling trade, with one accord, and from all parts of the country, ask that something should be done for their immediate relief either by restoration of the reciprocity provisions in regard to flour or the passage of house bill 3,212 or a measure of like character. Replies from agricultural implement manufacturers are generally to the effect that as a rule the tariff in South America is light and its removal would produce little results. The Crane Iron company of Chicago advocates taking care of the home market; when a condition of things is brought about that will enable that to be reasonably well done it will then be time enough in their opinion to seek foreign markets on an extensive scale.

Claimant to the Davis Estate.

Butte, Mont., April 6.—William H. McCumpha of Friendship, N. Y., is the last person to make a demand for a good portion of the Davis estate millions. McCumpha has discovered another widow of the deceased multi-millionaire. She is McCumpha's mother-in-law whose maiden name was Mary Westinghouse and a sister of the Pittsburg manufacturer, Geo. Westinghouse. McCumpha says Davis deserted his wife in New York and came west in the early forties. He says he has the best proof to establish his claim.

FACTS ABOUT FURS.

St. Paul, Minn., Is the Leading City in the Business.

The Best Furs Come from the Northwestern States—Many of the Fur-Bearing Animals Have Been Almost Totally Exterminated.

Perhaps incredulity will sit in the eyes of the readers, but it is nevertheless a fact that in St. Paul every year there are upward of 225,000 dogs cut up for the manufacture of fur coats. In the last year or two there has been a scarcity of dogs, and the prices naturally have advanced. The dogs come from China, and are that peculiar animal with the black mouth and black tongue. They are a queer animal, and are known in China by the name of "the monks."

Nobody is prepared to believe, perhaps, that in this city annually about 450,000 coonskins are cut up and made into coats, but it is true, for we have the word of a prominent fur man who deals extensively in all kinds of skins, from the skunk to the seal. In 1893 his firm cut up 163,000 coonskins alone, and will keep it up so long as the animals exist.

There are certain animals that have survived civilization, as, for instance, the skunk, the raccoon and the opossum, while the wolf, the bear and animals of their nature have almost entirely disappeared.

In Louisville there lives an old fur buyer by the name of John White, who has followed the business of buying and selling furs for the past 50 years. When asked a short time ago by a St. Paul fur man what difference he noticed in the business now from the first time he went into it, White replied that the people are getting more coons, opossums and skunks now than ever before, proving conclusively that these animals are not affected by civilization, and go ahead multiplying without stint.

The vast majority of the otter, beaver, mink and other skins of that ilk are captured in the northwest, throughout Manitoba and the northwestern states. The wombat of Australia was for many years a drug on the market, and dealers found it impossible to dispose of them until the coat manufacturers of St. Paul took them up. They were found very excellent for the purpose of coat-making, and the hunters who had previously become discouraged and refused to kill any more found their occupation renewed and profitable. In the last two years the stock has been cleaned out, the wombat has become scarce and the prices have advanced proportionately. Everything seems to be declining in quantity but the raccoon, the skunk and the Chinese dog or monk, and these constitute the bulk of furs from which the coats are manufactured to-day.

The buffalo coat at one time was the most popular of them all, and it was the prevalence of the buffalo that gave St. Paul such a start in the industry of fur-coatmaking. At the time the buffalo were plenty on the western plains fully 90 per cent of the fur coats manufactured were made of buffalo skins. It was a great industry, not alone for the Indian, but the white hunter, who flocked to the buffalo swamps by the hundreds. The decline of the buffalo was so rapid as to almost exceed belief.

When the industry first started the plains fairly swarmed with the animal, and it was the easiest thing in the world to kill all that were desired, but in three years this noble animal was almost entirely extinct. When the Northern Pacific road was put through to Miles City, Mont., in 1883, there were 225,000 or 250,000 buffalo hides shipped out of that town. That was in 1883 alone. All that number had been killed by white hunters, while the Indian collection amounted to 20,000. The Indians, of course, were not possessed of the improved firearms and other methods of destroying the restless creatures, and that accounts for the size of their collection. So that in 1883 the collection, all told, amounted to about 270,000 hides and robes.

VALUABLE HORSES PERISH.

Loss on the Animals Burned in Buffalo's Fire Amounts to $75,000.

Buffalo, April 6.—The fire at the driving park Saturday night which destroyed the stables leased by Alonso McDonald, the well-known trainer, caused the death of twenty valuable horses. The fire was caused by the explosion of an oil stove in one of the cleaner's rooms. There were thirty horses in McDonald's string, most of which arrived here last Thursday. Among those which perished were Red Gothard and Blue Bird. The horses, maddened by the glare of the fire and the noise of the engines, resisted the efforts of those who tried to save them and many of them had to be left to their fate, the rescuing party themselves being in great danger. The stables were owned by C. J. Hamlin and were valued at $10,000. The loss on the horses is estimated at about $75,000.

THE INGRAM-BRADLEY PRIZE FIGHT.

Lawrence, Mass., April 6.—Local officers have arrested James Gilligan, who is said to have been the time-keeper at the Ingram-Bradley prize fight Saturday night. Charles Prickett, a hawker employed at the stable, who is said to have let the place for the fight, and Thomas Ahern, another hawker at the stable, were also arrested. It is said that small gloves were used in the fight and that nine rounds were fought. As a result of the fight Richard Ingram is dead and Bradley is under arrest.

A MASTERSTROKE.

How the Portrait Agent Works the Women.

"It's all a very simple matter when you come to know how," said the man who takes orders for crayon portraits. "It's a soft answer that turns away wrath, and the right kind of a jolly will make most any woman quiet down."

"Now, for instance, I go up to the front door and ring the bell. My kit's a dead give-away, and, of course, whoever comes to the door knows right away that I'm working some sort of a graft."

"No matter who comes to the door I've always got the same question to spring. I say: 'I'd like to know, please, if your mother is at home?' If it's a servant it flatters her to think that you take her to be one of the family. If it's a young woman it goes on the level."

"But the hit, ah, the hit's made with the girl that's got past 30. A lot of these smart boys workin' the same game always begin by saying: 'The lady of the house, I presume?'

"That's all right and it don't give offense; but it ain't no way to make a ten-strike and get into the house. Let a woman on the shady side of 40 open the door and begin givin' you the marble heart, and then you give her a pleasant look and say: 'I beg your pardon, miss, but is your mother at home?'

"It's ten to one that she'll look surprised for a moment, and then begin tittering and say: 'Why, my mother isn't here.'

"Then it's my turn to be surprised, and I say: 'Why, are you the lady of the house?' She blushes and says she is as if she was sort of mortified to let me know she was past 22. 'Indeed,' says I. 'Well, I have something here that's of particular interest to young women who have never been able to get a picture that will do 'em justice.'

"Good stroke, eh? You see, you don't often find a woman who'll admit that any photograph ever did her justice. After you've complimented a woman on her youthful appearance and sympathized with her because her pictures never made her handsome enough you're in a fair way to take an order. Some women can't be jollied, though, and if they're mean about it I've got a great way of gettin' back, especially if the woman's under 35. I say: 'Have you got any married children who might want to have some work done?'

"It's always some satisfaction to know that they'll keep thinking about that for a long time after I've gone."—Chicago Record.

THE HOUSEKEEPER'S PEST.

Above All Things She Most Detests Dust.

When a weary housekeeper was asked what her idea of Heaven was she replied: "A place where there is no dust and no dirty dishes."

To the housewife who has a servant to wash her dishes the second clause of the reply may not carry weight, but she must have a very efficient staff of domestics at her command who does not appreciate the pest of dust. The putting in of coal in the cellar covers all the furniture upstairs with a black dust; the furnace is shaken down, and all polished surfaces are gray; while in summer a fine, light, impalpable powder from the streets sifts in hourly through every chink and crevice. While it is well and proper for the housekeeper to fight the nuisance, and once a day have her house thoroughly dusted, she may become a slave to her enemy. She is no worse off than her neighbors, and she would do well to console herself with this thought, and not make herself and everybody else miserable because of a dim mirror or a whitened chair-rung. I have impressed painfully upon my mind the picture of a young married friend, fragile in appearance, and, in truth, whose life was worn to a thread by her arch-toe-dust. She was the mistress of a large house, entirely furnished as to floors, mantels and wainscoting in polished antique oak. She kept two servants, but the parlormaid had time to dust the house only once per diem. The remainder of the time the so-called mistress undertook to keep things clean. My most vivid recollection of her is as she appeared two-thirds of the time, worn and weary, with a dust-cloth in her hand. She used to say, half laughing, half sorrowfully, that a fit legend for her tombstone would be: "Dust thou art, to dust returnest."

As dear Mrs. Whitney says: "Something must be crowded out." Let us housekeepers accept this truth as inevitable, and when we do let it be of a struggle with something greater than dust.—Harper's Bazaar.

Taxpayers only will be allowed to vote, the last tax roll to govern.

Polls will remain open from 2 o'clock p.m. until 8 o'clock p.m., on Tuesday, Feb. 25th, at the Corporation Rooms, on Centre street.

From the New York Tribune, Feb. 25th.

The party that takes advantage of temporary ascendancy to perpetuate itself in power never succeeds in its purpose.

No party can afford to trifle with the people, and almost any party is liable, if given rope enough, to hang itself.

The report of Hon. J. S. Morton, Secretary of Agriculture, for the last fiscal year, contains some facts and figures showing the importance of this country's agricultural interests. During the fiscal year of 1895 our exports were of the value of $793,000,000, of which $553,215,327 was in agricultural products. In other words—the farmers—of the United States, after feeding the population of this country, had a surplus large enough to furnish 69.67 per cent. of all the exports the country's exports.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT.

A Representative of the Bondholders Demands Possession—Receiver Anthony Will Not Surrender It Till Discharged by the Court.

Mr. J. O. Lott, of New York, arrived in town, yesterday, and reported to Receiver J. V. Z. Anthony, of the electric light works, that he had been sent here by the Fort Wayne Electric Co. to take charge of the works.

Mr. Anthony had applied to the court on March 24 to be discharged from the receivership, but no action having been taken on the application, he declined to turn over his trust to Mr. Lott and the latter returned to New York.

When the property was sold at receiver's sale, sometime ago, it was bought in by a representative of the bondholders, who are said to be the American Loan and Trust Co. and the Fort Wayne Electric Co., but Mr. Anthony has continued to operate the plant as receiver.

Mr. Anthony has been working under disadvantages on account of lack of machinery and has not been able to give the public the service he desired nor to make any money for the bondholders, but he has done well under the circumstances. He will doubtless step down and out when relieved of his receivership.

Millard Division's Meeting.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES.

Large Congregations—Beautiful Flora Decorations and Appropriate and Interesting Services.

Yesterday was a grand Easter day, and, as a result, all the churches were filled with worshippers, and at all the decorations were profuse and beautiful, and the services of an appropriate character.

GRACE CHURCH.

The Easter services at Grace Church, yesterday, were attended by large congregations.

At 6 o'clock more than 100 came out to the early celebration, in which the full vested choir of men and boys took part, commencing the triumphal day with the hymn, "Jesus Christ is risen to-day."

At 11 o'clock the church was crowded to the very doors, and a sermon was preached on the evidences of a future life, as furnished by natural reasons. The musical features of this service were remarkably fine, long and careful preparations having been made for it by the organist, H. L. Wickham, and it was the universal opinion that it surpassed in execution, and in effect, any services rendered by the choir of the church in many years. In the interval of the offertory, Mrs. Harvey L. Wickham sang the "Resurrection" in fine voice, and with rare effect.

There were nearly 100 communicants at the second celebration. At 3 o'clock the Sunday School of the church held its Easter festival with special carols. The Lenten pyramids were presented and laid on the altar, containing the offerings for Foreign Missions. Miss Mary Stewart sang a solo very sweetly.

At 7.30 the church was crowded again. The floral decorations were perfectly beautiful, the altar being dressed with roses and lilies by the Daughters of the King. The offering for the day amounted to about $250.

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

The services at St. Joseph's Church were very impressive, and attracted large congregations at each mass, in the morning and at vespers in the evening. The altar was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers.

Rev. Father O'Hanlon celebrated the masses, and Rev. Father McCloskey delivered sermons at both masses in the morning. He also celebrated a mass at the Ursuline Convent.

The music was of a very high order, and the singing of Misses Cunningham, Costello, and McCloskey was exceptionally fine. The offertory amounted to about $700.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

At the First Presbyterian Church the pulpit and choir loft were handsomely decorated by Finkhaber. Easter lilies predominating.

In the morning Rev. Dr. Gordon preached an appropriate sermon and the choir rendered Easter anthems, and Mr. H. L. Adams sang a solo, "The Resurrection Morn."

In the evening the pastor preached to the several societies connected with the church. The music was excellent. A tenor obligato was sung by Col. Shepard and Mrs. Adams sang, "I know that my Redeemer liveth" from the Messiah.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

At the Second Presbyterian Church the decorations were very pretty and were arranged by the Y. P. S. C. and came from Belding's and Webb Horan's greenhouse. In the morning Dr. Beattie preached a sermon appropriate to Easter and in the evening Mr. H. S. Gowell delivered an address on Y. M. O. work. Easter hymns were sung at both services by the congregation, and Mrs. George St. John, of Port Jervis, sang several solos.

FIFTH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

At the First Congregational Church the decorations, which covered the pulpit and choir loft, were by Belding and were very fine.

Dr. Robinson preached an Easter sermon in the morning. The choir rendered several anthems and Misses Marvin and Howland sang a duet.

In the evening a sacred cantata was rendered in which Messrs. F. P. S. Crane and Francis McWilliams and the Sunday School and choir participated. An organ and violin duet was rendered by Misses Mullon and Wells.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

At the First Baptist Church not as much effort at decoration had been made as at the other churches, but Easter lilies, ferns and potted plants were very tastefully arranged.

Rev. Mr. Heath preached excellent sermons both morning and evening, and in the evening the rite of baptism was conferred. The choir rendered several Easter anthems and a male quartette consisting of W. W. Clark, Frank Hopkins, John Wheat and C. B. Buck rendered a selection at each of the services.

ST. PAUL'S M. E. CHURCH.

At this church owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Wilson, at Conference there was no preaching, but the Sunday School held very interesting exercises in the morning, consisting of singing and recitations. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

At the Universalist Church the platform was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants from Finkhaber's. This church's new quarters are in the Assembly Rooms and the seating capacity of the hall was none too large for the occasion. Rev. Dr. Taber, of Brooklyn, preached morning and evening.

NORTH STREET CONGREGATIONAL.

At this church the altar and pulpit were decorated profusely and very tastefully with flowers. Easter lilies being the principal flowers. In the morning the pastor, Rev. J. W. Norris preached an appropriate Easter sermon and in the evening there was a concert by the Sunday School.

MIDDLETOWN'S FIRST DRY SUNDAY.

The Raines Law Enforced—Blinds Open Nearly and shades Up in Every Bar-room—A Few Back rooms Open to Favoured Patrons.

The Raines law was enforced in this city, yesterday, and the result was a drier Sunday than Middletown has known in years.

The police notified all hotel and saloon keepers, Saturday afternoon, that the law was on and particularly cautioned them the blinds must be opened and shades raised so as to permit a free view of the barroom from the street. At midnight, Saturday night, all the places closed, lights went out and shades up. At 6 o'clock last night the police reported that every drinking place was closed, and that the shades were up in all but four.

Side doors undoubtedly gave regular patrons admission to the rear rooms of some saloons in the outlying districts, for dealers who knew that they are to be forced out of the business by the new law were willing to take more chances than those who expect to pay the tax and who do not want to make records as law breakers, which may make them trouble. The growler trade, which in some parts of the town has constituted no small share of the Sunday business, was completely "knocked out."

Many regular tipplers, warned on Saturday of the impending drought, laid in a supply of liquor sufficient to last them over Sunday. One Fulton street dealer told an ARGUS reporter, yesterday, that never in all the years he has been in business in this city were so many pint and half pint bottles filled at his place as were filled Saturday night.

We have heard of but one drunken man having been seen on the streets and there was no way of learning whether his jug was home-made or was acquired in the back room of some friendly saloon.

At Theodore Frank's hotel the barroom was not only open to the public gaze, every screen and shade having been removed, but on the window was an invitation to passersby to make sure that the law was not being violated. It was as follows:

Please look in here. By order of the Raines bill." In the evening the deserted barroom was brilliantly illuminated.

The police reported four places where shades had been lowered so that a view of the interior of the barrooms could not be had from the street. One was a bottling establishment, and was in all probability an oversight upon the part of the proprietor. The others were James Langen, 50 Fulton street, Walter Barry, Montgomery street, and Miller & Coleman, South street. The two latter places, however, have no excise license, and the sudden discovery by the police that they are in the liquor business is something like a give away on police vigilance in the past.

Reopening of the Public Schools.

The public schools re-opened, to-day, after the spring vacation of one week. As is always the case at the opening of the spring term there were many applicants for admission to the primary department. Children who have never attended school before and children who were too small to be sent during the winter flocked to the schools in such numbers that in many of the buildings there was no room for them. It is possible that additional room will be provided outside.

THE WATER BOARD.

MUCH BUSINESS DONE AT SATURDAY NIGHT'S MEETING.

New Quarters for the Superintendent—Receipts and Disbursements—The Reservoirs Fast Filling Up—Extensions of Mains Ordered—A Majority of a Quorum May Do Business—Bill Audited.

The regular meeting of the Board of Water Commissioner was held Saturday evening, all members being present and the Superintendent. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, except as to a slight correction ordered made in the naming of the committee on quarters for Superintendent. The president from such committee stated that nothing definite had been done, but that the Burke property on Franklin street was under consideration. A small property could be put on this lot and the rental of the property would be $15 per month, with the privilege of a term of years.

RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS.

The Clerk made his report for February as follows: Water rents, $1,048 26, tops, $2; sales, $240, building pur., etc., $2, balance February 1st, $1,377 05. Total $2,361 71. Expenditures—Interest, $1,185; salaries, $241 66; construction, $192 26; expense, $381 29; repairs, $73 82; pump house, $173. Total $2,189 53. Balance March 1st, 1896, $172 18; bank balance, $104 48; cash, $61 70.

Receipts for March $1,307; expenditures, $1,069 53; receipts since April 1st, $355 42; expenditures since April 1st, $145 83; balance April 4th, $209 59; bank, $116; cash, $93 59.

The report of the inspector for the month of March was read.

CONDITION OF THE RESERVOIRS.

The Superintendent made the following report on the standing of the reservoirs: Highland Lake, March 7th, 1896, 10 feet; Feb. 3, 6 feet 10 inches; April 4, 12 feet; Monhagen Lake, March 7, 1896, 18 feet 8 inches; Feb. 1, 14 feet; April 4, 21 feet 4 inches, the total gain for March in the two reservoirs being 110,345 00.

The Superintendent submitted a statement of streets for the consideration of the Board in which pipes could be laid, showing a total length of pipe of 15,674 feet at a cost of about $10,254 99.

THE CLERK'S NEW BOND.

The Clerk reported that he had filed with the President a new bond as per the resolution of the Board. On motion the old bond was ordered cancelled and the new bond was approved.

The committee on the Houston estate claim reported progress. The President stated that he had not as yet received any report from the engineer.

Mr. J. J. Huyler asked that the Board discontinue the meter on his property, corner of Wickham avenue and Low Avenue, as to that portion of the building not used for hotel purposes. Laid on the table.

MAIN EXTENSION ORDERED.

The Clerk read a petition for the extension of mains on Wilkes, Hillside and Monhagen avenues and a four inch pipe was ordered laid on Wilkes and Hillside avenues from Monhagen avenue up to the cemetery lands, and a six inch pipe on Monhagen avenue for a distance of about 914 feet to connect the dead ends of the main on Monhagen avenue.

The Superintendent reported in the matter of the non-imposition of property for freightage tax that he is getting ready to take such measures.

On motion of Mr. Rogers, seconded by Mr. Stratton, the Board resolved that the regular monthly meetings of the Board shall hereafter be held upon the first Monday of each month.

MAJORITY OF A QUORUM LEGAL.

On motion of Mr. Rogers the resolution passed last year making necessary three affirmative votes to carry a motion was rescinded, Messrs. Rogers and Fellows and Dr. Douglas voting nay. Mr. Rogers in support of his motion read an opinion from his attorney that a majority of a quorum could transact business. Dr. Douglas said that he was so advised by his attorney and let called upon to vote for repealing the rule which he was convinced was illegal.

TO MR. C. R. RAINHAMS.

On motion of Mr. Fellows the state intent was directed to prosecute the necessary apparatus for measuring the rainfall, and was directed to keep a monthly record of the same.

On motion of Mr. Fellows, the President, Mr. Rogers and Dr. Douglas were appointed committee on procuring quarters for the superintendent, with power to act.

An old bill of Pettinger & Simpson for putting in meters, $15, was referred to the auditing committee with directions to allow it.

The Clerk was directed to request the City Attorney to take such steps as might be necessary to have the clause in the city charter in reference to the salaries to be paid to the employees of the water department, struck therefrom at once.

A bill of Taylor & Co. for coal was referred to the superintendent.

Bills to the amount of $261 21 were audited.

Board adjourned.

BITTEN BY A SNAKE.

A Fishkillian Girl Won't Adventure With a Spotted Adder.

While standing in the yard of her father's house in Fishkill Landing, Wednesday evening, Mamie, the eighteen-year-old daughter of John W. Higge, was bitten half a dozen times on the leg by a snake which coiled itself around her ankle. The snake, which caught its fangs in her stocking and dangled at her heels as she ran to where other members of the family were standing, is described as large and very thick and of a dark greyish color and is supposed to have been a spotted adder. It died away before it could be killed.

Miss Higge has suffered severely from the effects of the bites. Her leg and foot were very much swollen and she has had frequent febrile spells. Her physician for a time thought her case very critical.

It is supposed that the snake had been thawed out by the few days of warm weather early in the week, and that as it lay on the ground Miss Higge stepped on it.

Many Deaths—Trout Fishing Prospects

—A Bad Winter For Lumbermen and Teamsters—Cloudy Weather a Fine Track

—Rafting Notes—Low Prices For Butter—Letting Their Light Shine

Correspondence Arouse and MERCURY.

I t m y imagination of mine, but it seems to me that more people have died during the past two months than usual. More particularly is that the case with aged people, and those considerably past the prime of life.

If "coming events cast their shadows before," then trout fishing will be fine in our streams when the season first opens, as there is less snow left back in the woods at the head of the streams than usual on April 1st.

The lumbermen and haulers of wood did not "make rich" the past winter at all, at all. The lack of good sleighing until we along in the winter, left a great many logs and a great deal of wood in the woods, and so little did the men earn that some of them were glad to sacrifice their teams in order to get out whole.

The Roscoe and Rockland people who own fast horses are talking of making a driving park at the last named village on the Green farm. Should this be done the track could be made the fastest in the State. I would be a dead level from start to finish with a natural drainage that would keep it in perfect condition at all times of the year.

—All of the lumber rafted along the Delaware is now on its way to market, as the water in all the branches and on the main stream is at a proper height to make rafting safe. There will not be one raft floated this season where there were twenty thirty years ago.

—Our up Midland farmers who depend upon buttermaking are down in the dumps at the low prices they get for their product this spring. Prices are a little better now and a good article brings from eighteen to twenty cents in the New York market, but about the middle of March a great deal of it only brought fifteen cents. To say the least the butter making or milking producing farmer's lot is not east in very pleasant places just now.

—A great change has come over the methods of rafting logs on the Delaware during the past five years. Previous to that time it was all done with wooden bows and plugs for which holes six inches deep had to be bored. The modern way is to sharpen an old worn out horse shoe and with a sledge hammer drive it over a pole into the log and the work is done. These old shoes, if taken care of, can be used time and again.

—Mrs. E. B. Paley, of Rockland, recently took the Roscoe boys to task through the Review for congealing in the shed at the post office-store evenings to her great annoyance when she attended the Presbyterian Church and word up with an offer of fifty cents towards lighting tapers. The Roscoe boys felt a little hurt over the matter and on April 1st hung up a half dozen lanterns in the shell in order that Mr. Paley and his family may no longer walk in darkness when they come to Roscoe.

Every day I failed. My husband said if I would try a bottle of your Vegetable Compound, he would get it for me. The change was wonderful. After I had taken the first half bottle I began to have great faith in it. When I had taken three bottles, I was well and growing stout. It is a pleasure for me to write this to you.
